Task 1. Fill out the missing information in the task provided below.
(5pts)

In the USA, a bill can become a law in the following situations:

- 1) When it is signed by the president
- 2) When both Houses override the presidents' veto with a two-third majority vote
- 3) When the president does not sign the Bill and does not return to the Congress in a ten day period not including Saturdays and Sundays.

The last one is known as a 'pocket veto'

Task 2. Use your own words to explain the process of electing the US president. (5pts).

You talk about the popular vote.
