I agree and understand that the Stipendium Hungaricum scholarship entitles Scholarship Holders to carry out studies in Hungary, therefore the Scholarship Holders are not entitled to use financial support for getting enrolled in full time or partial (exchange) study programmes outside Hungary (e.g. Erasmus +, CEEPUS, Campus Mundi) - except for short-term (not more than 10 workdays) periods for participation at conferences that are professionally relevant for the studies or research of the student - in case it does not affect the student in habitually living in Hungary and it can be financed by the Host Institution.

Since the last round of applications, the number of Sending Partners has increased, therefore more and more students have the chance to apply for the scholarship to study in Hungary. At the time of writing, 60 Sending Partners are engaged in the programme throughout 5 different continents. With the number of Stipendium Hungaricum applicants, the number of available scholarship places is also increasing. Similarly to the previous Calls for Applications, the Stipendium Hungaricum scholarships are available for bachelor, master, one-tier master, doctoral (and in some cases, preparatory and specialisation non-degree) programmes. Both full degree and exchange study modes are available, depending on the specific Sending Partner.

- Deadline for submitting the complete application package: 16th February 2018.

The 'Priorities' section explains that applicants must select up to three study programmes in order of preference. It notes that the order of preference is essential for the selection process. A specific programme is listed: MSc Mechanical Engineering, SH Academic year 2018/2019, Master, full-time, English, at Szent István University, Faculty of Mechanical Engineering. There is a '+ Add more choices' button at the bottom.

ABDELMALEK ATIA

Priorities

In this section, you have to pick the study programmes that you wish to apply for. You can apply for up to three different study programmes, in order of preference. These three study programmes can be both at the same university and at different universities too; it is the applicants' decision. Please note that the study programmes' availability depends on your sending country or territory. E.g. it is possible that you can only apply for specific study fields or study levels. For more information please check the Call for Application 2018/2019

Please move your choices up and down so that they accurately reflect your order of priorities.

This order of preference is essential because you will go through the selection and examination process for your study programme selected as the first choice first. The first decision about the applications is also going to be made only regarding the first selected programmes. During the second and third decisions, only the remaining free places will be filled. In this way, the chances of receiving the scholarship are relatively higher for the study programmes selected as first choices because there are more free places at that time.

After submitting your application, the selected programmes and the order of preference cannot be changed by the applicant!

We highly advise all applicants to carefully check the minimum entry requirements of the study programmes and take time to decide on the order of the three programme preferences! We also highly encourage the applicants to increase their chances of receiving the scholarship by applying for not only one or two, but three study programmes in total.

One of the most important parts of your application is the motivation letter. Its goal is to introduce your background and support your application. In short, its goal is to answer the question: "Why are you a suitable candidate?"

Write in a clear and logical manner: remember, the way you write and present yourself says a lot about you.

Some points that may help you answer this question:

- Why have I chosen to apply to this programme?
- What do I expect to gain from my studies?
- Why does my background make me a suitable candidate?
- How will the programme help me to achieve my goals?

In this section, you can let us know about any further information that has an effect on your application or your study period (such as you can give us details about any medical needs you may have).

If partial (exchange) studies are available in your sending country, you can choose to apply for full degree studies or partial (exchange studies). Full degree programmes are programmes that lead to a bachelor, master or doctoral degree and last for years of education. Partial (exchange) studies are one- or two-semester long exchange studies that are part of the student's degree studies in their sending higher education institutions. Partial (exchange) studies are not available for the Hungarian language preparatory courses and specialisation courses, therefore if you are applying for a one-year non-degree programme, you have to choose full degree studies.

If you are applying for partial (exchange) studies, then you have to indicate in which semester (Autumn or Spring) would wish to star your studies and how many semesters (1 or 2 semesters) you are applying for. The number of semesters cannot be changed later!

I am still interested in studying in Hungary, please consider me as a fee paying applicant.
